

To ensure that ACA committees, events and teams are a safe and respectful space for all participants, all ACA staff and volunteers are asked to review and sign a code of conduct.

Code of Conduct for ACA Volunteers & Directors

As the leading trade association for the cider industry, it is ACA's policy to uphold high legal & ethical standards which are needed to achieve the ACA's goals of a strong and sustainable cider industry for everyone. As an ACA volunteer you agree to:

- Refrain from any illegal, dishonest, or unethical conduct.
- Declare any potential conflict of interest with the Executive Director.
- Refrain from making disparaging remarks about individuals or organizations.
- Abide by our commitment to equity and inclusion.

Failure to do so may result in termination of volunteer arrangement.
